VOTE AWAITED
ON DISCARDING
NO-FOWL DAYPOULTRY INDUSTRY
PLEDGES GRAIN
SAVING DRIVE

By STERLING F. GREEN
Washington, Oct. 22 (AP)—The Citizens Food Committee decides today whether to call off poultry-less Thursday.

Chairman Charles Luckman assembled his seven-member executive committee for an afternoon meeting to weigh a "final offer" from the poultry and feed industries to save grain for Europe in other ways.

Luckman himself was reported leaning toward the plan but committee officials said the decision would be left up to the executive body.

The proposal pledges specific savings of 16,800,000 bushels of grain from November through January by culling out poultry flocks and reducing the number of chicks hatched. It forecasts another 16,000,000-bushel saving through an industry-wide feed conservation drive.

The plan has been presented to President Truman's cabinet food committee for "appraisal and analysis," but poultry and feed industry spokesmen left town today saying they had "received no assurances whatsoever."

Hatcheries To Curtail

The new grain-saving proposal submitted to Luckman's executive committee contains these major provisions:

1. A 25 per cent cut in the production of "broiler chicks"—chickens which are hatched and reared for market as broilers or fryers in 90 days—from the level of November, December and January of a year ago.

The National Poultry Producers Federation estimated this would save 3,000,000 bushels of grain by January 1 and another 3,000,000 by April 1. The federation promised to call meetings of broiler producers within ten days and ob-

Ramadier Stays On
As Cabinet Resigns

Paris, Oct. 22 (AP)—The members of France's cabinet handed their resignations today to Socialist Premier Paul Ramadier, but the premier himself did not resign.

In the midst of what the premier called France's grave economic situation, his office announced that Ramadier himself was firmly intent upon going ahead with the formation of a new government. It was not certain, however, that Ramadier would be successful.

The announcement came with startling suddenness, just three days after Gen. Charles De Gaulle's smashing success in France's municipal elections. Some observers said the cabinet's unanimous decision to step down would facilitate the return to power of the liberation leader through his new party, the Rally of the French People.

The action came a few hours after the cabinet had summoned the national assembly back from vacation for an emergency session set for next Tuesday. The assembly was not due to end its vacation until Nov. 13.

If Ramadier fails to form a new cabinet, French President Vincent Turiot conceivably might call upon De Gaulle.

JULES VAN DAMME

EMIL DEBACKER

POTATO KINGS—Delta county has had two Michigan potato champions within the past seven years, and the Potato Booster association is hopeful that another county grower will set a state record in 1947. Back in 1941 Jules Van Damme of St. Nicholas produced 650 bushels to an acre, and in 1944 Emil DeBacker, also of St. Nicholas, had a yield of 715 bushels.

Delta Potato Show
Prizes Near $1,000

Delta county's prize winning potatoes will be on display in Escanaba Thursday in the 1947 County Potato Show that also marks the completion of the second four-year Potato Booster contest.

Prize money totaling nearly $1,000 will be distributed to winners of the 1947 contest and the four-year contest. Announcement of the contest winners will be made Thursday night at the Cornell township hall.

Miss Eleanor Anderson, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Anderson of Ensign, Tuesday evening was elected 1947 Delta County Potato Show queen at a banquet for the eight queen candidates at the Delta hotel. Miss Anderson is a Senior at Rapid River high school, plays the clarinet, sings in the Glee Club. She has blond hair, blue eyes, and is five feet seven inches tall. There are 11 children in the Anderson family.

Since the start of the Potato Booster contest seven years ago Delta county has had two state champion potato growers—Jules Van Damme in 1941 and Emil DeBacker in 1944. Both are from St. Nicholas. There is the possibility that Delta county may have a Michigan spud king this year.

In addition to about $440 in prize money, winners in the certified and tablestock divisions of the four-year contest will be awarded trophies. Winners in the 1947 contest will receive a total of about $560 in prizes.

In the 1947 contest there are about 17 certified growers and 23 tablestock growers entered. In

TRIBES REVOLT
AGAINST CHINASupport Of Russians And Mongols Indicated In Sinkiang Attack

Nanking, Oct. 22 (AP)—Official sources declared today a long-smoldering revolt had broken out in far-off Sinkiang province, the sole point where China now has a common frontier with the U. S. S. R.

These quarters told the Associated Press that ill tribesmen had begun an attack of such strength that it indicated they have the physical support of outer Mongolians and possibly Russians.

They quoted military dispatches from Tihwa, capital of the northwest province, as saying the rebels had 80 trucks loaded with munitions when their columns overwhelmed Chenghwa, near the border.

Chenghwa is a government outpost 250 miles north of Tihwa and only 35 miles from the frontier with outer Mongolia.

The rebels now are pursuing the slender pro-government garrison southward in the directions of Tihwa, these accounts added.

China long has suspected Russia of dabbling in the politics of Sinkiang, where Soviet influence once was strong.

The ill tribesmen always have resented Chinese authority and have turned to Russia for trade. It is easier to get the manufactured goods the tribesmen need from Russia than from China markets.

CHILE BREAKS
WITH RUSSIA,
JOINS BRAZILSTRIKE OF MINERS
IS BLAMED ON COMMUNISTS

Santiago, Chile, Oct. 22 (AP)—Chile, blaming Communists for a recent coal strike, was aligned with Brazil today in a diplomatic break with the Soviet Union.

The Chilean government said last night it had severed diplomatic and consular relations with Russia and with Czechoslovakia as well because of "instigations of International Communists" held to have "disturbed the public quiet of Chile."

The Brazilian Foreign Ministry announced earlier in Rio de Janeiro that Brazil had cut diplomatic ties with the Soviet government because of what it called "outrageous and even calumnious" Russian Press criticism of Brazil's president Eurico Gaspar Dutra and his army.

Party Outlawed

Chile's step will leave the Soviet-Oriented section of Europe without a single representative in Santiago. Yugoslavia broke relations with Chile Oct. 11 in protest at Chile's expulsion of two Yugoslav diplomats. No other countries in the eastern European Bloc have had representation here.

Brazil, with some 42,000,000 inhabitants and an area bigger than the continental United States, has a Communist party claiming 200,000 members—largest in the western hemisphere—although it was outlawed last May. Chile, with about 5,000,000 population and a size roughly equalling Texas plus West Virginia, has a Communist party claiming 70,000.

Both countries have maintained diplomatic relations with Russia since 1945. Chile's Communists dominate unions of coal, copper and nitrate miners.

Brazil's Congress yesterday voted confidence in the government after the break with Russia. The senate acted unanimously, the Chamber of Deputies by a 190-to-56 vote—with Communist deputies voicing opposition.

FLIGHT PERMIT
GIVEN AIRLINESFontana, Iron Mountain,
Succeeds Walsh On Aeronautics Board

Lansing, Oct. 22 (AP)—Cass Hough of Plymouth was elected chairman of the state aeronautics commission yesterday for a one-year term to succeed William Stout of Pontiac.

Mario Fontana of Iron Mountain was elected vice-chairman to succeed Thomas E. Walsh of Grand Rapids.

The new officers were appointed to the commission this year by Governor Sigler. The retiring officers will continue as commission members.

At the same meeting, the commission relaxed a previous order to permit National-Wide Airlines to continue its operations between Detroit, Lansing and western Upper Peninsula points.

The commission had ordered the airline to comply with all federal safety requirements for scheduled flights, but airline officials declared it was impossible to comply with this order by Nov. 1 as demanded. They received permission to operate under regulations governing non-scheduled flights temporarily.

Persistent Bandit
Makes Second Trip,
Escapes With $273

Ionia, Mich., Oct. 22 (AP)—A persistent bandit who visited Garage Proprietor Willis M. Clark twice yesterday and escaped with $273 on the second trip was sought today by police.

Clark, 41, told officers the man attempted to steal several tools from the garage during the morning, but left when Clark appeared at the garage. In the afternoon, however, he returned with a gun and took the cash which Clark said he had on hand to buy a wedding outfit.

The proprietor said the gunman looked him in the stomach on his return visit, and left with words, "This will teach you to treat people better."

QUAD BABIES BORN

Natchitoches, La., Oct. 22 (AP)—Quadruplets were born here yesterday to Eugene and Rosa May Phanor, negroes.

The Natchitoches hospital reported that the infants, all girls, weighed about three pounds each. One of the infants died soon after birth, but the other three are expected to live, hospital attendants said.

Col. Evans Retained
After Aeronautics
Hearing In Lansing

BY JAMES A. O. CROWE
Lansing, Oct. 22 (AP)—Col. Floyd E. Evans, director of the State Aeronautics department, was retained in his position by the aeronautics commission last night, following a 14-hour ouster hearing.

By unanimous vote, the commission approved a statement which declared that charges of maladministration brought against Evans and G. R. Richardson, chief engineer of the department, "have not been substantiated."

Dismissal of the two "is not warranted and would not be in the public interest," the statement said.

The charges, brought before the commission by Commissioner Thomas E. Walsh and backed by the Aviation Association of Michigan, contended the two officials had instigated unnecessary engineering work, failed to co-operate with air school managers and failed to work successfully with the federal government on assistance programs.

The association, made up of air school managers, had demanded Evans' dismissal.

The statement declared that the commission action "should not be interpreted to mean, however, that the commission is satisfied that these and other employees of the department * * * have been as cooperative with those interested in the development of aviation as they should have been."

"It is the intent of the commission that the department * * * be operated hereafter in such a manner as will best serve and promote aviation and command the confidence of the aviation interests in the state."

Evans thanked the commission

TRAINS COLLIDE
NEAR ST. PAULSoo Line Passenger In Wreck; 22 Injured,
One Seriously

St. Paul, Oct. 22 (AP)—Twenty-four persons were injured, at least one seriously, when a Soo Line passenger train and a Northern Pacific freight train collided head-on today near the north city limits of St. Paul.

The injured included 17 passengers on the Chicago to St. Paul passenger train and seven crew members. Reported in serious condition was J. A. Ritchie of St. Paul, freight engineer, who was thrown about 25 feet.

One car of the passenger train and a boxcar on the freight were derailed. Several cars were derailed but remained upright.

George Dick of St. Paul, fireman on the passenger, was dug out from under merchandise strewn from the telescoped freight car. Dick had jumped just before the collision.

The Northern Pacific operates on the Soo Line tracks at the location of the wreck. The freight was moving toward a siding.

The injured among the passengers included Mrs. Jay Patterson, 61, of Dowagiac, Mich. She suffered an injured jaw.

The ministry said 561 persons died of cholera in the 24 hours up to yesterday, the heaviest 24-hour death toll yet recorded.

Forest Fire Menace
Grows In Peninsula

Lansing, Oct. 22 (AP)—The state conservation department reported the forest fire threat in Michigan's Upper Peninsula as "increasingly dangerous" today.

The department said 55 fires had been reported in the Upper Peninsula, many of them spreading as they were whipped by winds of 15 to 35 miles an hour velocity. A pall of smoke covers the region, the department said.

A blaze in the Keweenaw Peninsula, near Deleware, was reported still out of control and now spread to cover 1,200 acres. Another large fire near Little Girl's Point in Gogebic county has spread to cover 1,500 acres.

Three separate fires in the Newberry area have burned over 900 acres. Conservation department headquarters at Roscommon in the lower peninsula reported 17 small fires in that area covering a total of 500 acres.

No rain is in prospect, the department said, and any one of the smaller fires could break away to become a major menace.

FIRE BLACKENS
CAPE IN MAINEKennebunkport Village
Safe As Blaze Sweeps
Scenic Coastline

Goose Rocks Beach, Me., Oct. 22 (AP)—A terrifying forest fire consumed almost 200 buildings along a five mile stretch of picturesque Maine coastline before it was brought under control early today.

Most of the razed structures were summer cottages, but there were scores of homeless families in the Goose Rocks, Cape Porpoise and Wildes districts of Kennebunkport.

Kennebunkport village, with 2,000 residents, was spared, as diminishing winds and effective backfiring stemmed the advance of the fire—the most serious of 40 burning in Maine's long-parched forestlands.

Firemen reported early today that the blaze which swept the Cape Porpoise section was still burning along a 15-mile front.

Farmers in the path of the flames moved livestock, and carried household equipment into the village of Kennebunkport for storage in garages and other business establishments.

A number of farm families also were quartered for the night in business places in the village.

At least 5,000 firefighters and volunteers tried to keep the flames from racing into the village.

With nearly another hundred homes and cottages lost in other parts of the state, Forest Commissioner Raymond Rendall estimated the loss at more than $1,000,000.

Kennebunkport is the site of a large summer colony of artists and writers.

Among the razed buildings at Goose Rocks was the summer art school of nationally known painter Eliot O'Hara.

The state conservation department's fire fighting headquarters reported that the fire hazard remained at No. 7—the highest—with high winds expected today in tinder dry wooded areas littered with a thick blanket of dead leaves.

The department said the humidity ranged from nine to 19 in an area where 25 is considered dangerous.

All divisional field men of the department were under standby orders for fire duty.

The department said none of the new fires breaking out yesterday got beyond a "small acreage."

Pardon Is Refused
Naturopath Sent to Prison For Bribery

Lansing, Oct. 22 (AP)—Governor Sigler refused Tuesday to pardon Dr. Mikel Sherman, of Farmington, who was sentenced to three to five years on charges of conspiring to corrupt the legislature.

The aged Dr. Sherman was formerly president of the Michigan branch of the Naturopathic Association of America. Last week he lost an appeal to the state supreme court to reverse his conviction.

"I told him," Sigler said, "that I was sorry for him but that he was mixed up with the wrong bunch and had violated the laws of the state. I told Dr. Sherman also that I regretted he was in his present difficult situation but there was absolutely nothing I could do for him."

Sigler formerly was special prosecutor of the Ingham county grand jury which found Sherman and others guilty of a bribery conspiracy to pass a bill legalizing naturopathy.

Presidential Derby
Expected To Count
Taft In By Friday

Dayton, O., Oct. 22 (AP)—Political experts toted up the signs today and decided that by Friday the Republican party would have a second candidate for the 1948 presidential nomination in Ohio's senior senator, Robert A. Taft, who has promised to announce his status at that time.

Last night he was introduced to 600 Montgomery county Republicans as "the next president of the United States." The words belonged to Ohio's Republican National Committeewoman Katherine Kennedy Brown of Dayton, generally considered a key figure in the G.O.P.'s distaff organization.

Newsman, attempting to call the shot before Taft's formal announcement, predicted unanimously that he will be a candidate, first to oppose former Minnesota Gov. Harold E. Stassen, the only Republican officially seeking the nomination now.

And at Washington, Taft's friends, chiefly Rep. Clarence J. Brown (R-Ohio), squared away for a campaign-launching that should make Taft's last five weeks of personal appearances and speechmaking a mild routine by comparison.

Ticketed to manage a Taft campaign if it develops, Brown said that the Ohio senator had made a good impression on his recent western speaking tour and confidently predicted:

"There's no doubt that Senator Taft will be elected president if he is nominated by the Republicans."

Taft remained silent, however, about the Friday announcement, refusing to be stamped into breaking the deadline he has established. Following his address here, which was picketed by CIO union members who massed in front of the Miami hotel, Taft conceded that anybody who said he would be a candidate was entitled to that observation but declared there would be no premature statement from him.

After marching with Mrs. Taft through a narrow lane of pickets, estimated by police at about 500, Taft grinned and said that he was not perturbed by "our usual reception. We would have missed it you know."

In the early investigation, Moore said Schneider admitted:

1. Robbing two filling stations in Los Angeles Sept. 16, and kidnapping H. V. Quindt, attendant at one of the stations who was later released unharmed.

2. Burglary of the Lonohe Motors Co. at Lonohe, Ark., in which a small amount of cash and auto accessories were stolen.

Doak also said the ownership of a 1946 convertible automobile that Schneider was driving had been traced to Quindt.

Michigan authorities were called into the case when the similarity was noted between eFord's disappearance and those of the two Detroit area attendants.

Attendants Vanish
In Detroit yesterday Michigan state police reported the finding of a body believed to be that of 28-year-old Donald Dusseau of Temperance, Mich., in a rural area about 12 miles outside the motor city.

Two brothers of Dusseau confirmed identification of the body today. Wayne Dusseau, 35, of Erie, Mich., and his brother, Sterling, 38, of Temperance, viewed the body at Pontiac and made the identification. A Detroit woman found the body while picking autumn leaves.

Dusseau and James R. Hall, 21-year-old Detroit filling station attendant, vanished mysteriously under similar circumstances early the morning of Oct. 8. The search for Hall's body was continuing today.

Capt. James Pitts, chief of Denver detectives, who arrived in Pikeville Monday, said there had been no trace of Ford.

Doak quoted Schneider as saying he was uncertain about the exact location of the scene of the slayings.

Pikeville, Ky., Oct. 22 (AP)—Paul John Schneider, 24-year-old dishonorably discharged soldier soldier formerly of San Francisco, admitted to police today the robbery-slaying of three filling station attendants—one in Denver and two in the Detroit area—between September 21 and October 8, Chief Deputy Sheriff Robert B. Doak reported.

Doak, who headed a lengthy investigation in which two FBI agents and Kentucky and Michigan state police participated, said Schneider confessed to:

1. Robbing and shooting at a filling station attendant held up in Denver Sept. 21 and then proceeding to Detroit.

2. Holding up a second filling station attendant in suburban Detroit, driving him out to a country road and beating him to death with a tire tool.

3. Holding up and robbing a third attendant near Detroit two hours later and killing him in the same manner.

Automobile Traced

Although Schneider did not identify any of the men slain by name, Doak said it was virtually certain the Denver man was Frank J. Ford, 46, who had been missing since the September date.

Schneider was taken into custody by City Patrolman Vernon Sanders last Friday, a few days after he had cashed a check here. The check, on a Denver bank, bore Ford's signature.

Denver authorities informed Sheriff D. T. Moore that the signer of the check and the endorser (Schneider) were the same person.

In the early investigation, Moore said Schneider admitted:

1. Robbing two filling stations in Los Angeles Sept. 16, and kidnapping H. V. Quindt, attendant at one of the stations who was later released unharmed.

2. Burglary of the Lonohe Motors Co. at Lonohe, Ark., in which a small amount of cash and auto accessories were stolen.

FIRE DANGER STILL AT PEAK

No New Blazes, But Conditions Remain 'Explosive'

Warning Upper Peninsula residents and hunters to abide strictly by Governor Sigler's emergency proclamation covering the critical fire hazard condition in U. P. woodlands, officials of the U. S. Forest Service emphasized here this morning that the danger of fire would remain at a peak until the area is reached with a sustained rainfall.

"No new fires started in the five districts of the Upper Michigan National Forest in the last 24 hours, but conditions remain explosive, easily the worst in more than a decade," George Young, assistant forest supervisor, asserted.

The Escanaba office of the U. S. Forest Service has been informed by its regional office in Milwaukee that the governor's ban against smoking in the open and against open camp fires applies to the Hiawatha and Marquette national forests which comprise the Upper Michigan National Forest.

The national forests in the U. P. will be posted. Fire emergency signs are being placed on and near forest entrance roads and roads within the forests, Young said.

Asked about the value of heavy dew in the Escanaba area as a means of protecting forests from fire, Young said "it is an asset for a short period but it dries off by 11 o'clock in the morning."

"Also," he continued, "heavy dew is highly localized. It appears to be particularly heavy in and around Escanaba but elsewhere, in the woods where the danger is greatest, it might be very light and would dry up very quickly."

High winds would increase the danger of a large-scale devastating fire, he added.

Training Films, Bowling Short To Be Shown At Drill

Two training films and an entertainment feature on bowling will be shown to members of Company C, the Delta county National Guard unit, at their regular weekly drill period at the State Fairgrounds Armory tonight.

"In preparation for drawing new equipment and new uniforms, old equipment must be turned in Wednesday night," Captain Roy Johnson, company commander, said this morning. "All men who have not turned in their shoes, mackinaws, neckties and old-type mess kits and canteens must do so immediately."

Pay checks are being held at the Armory for the following men: Gerald D. Allsworth, Dwight G. Arneson, Donald F. Balzhore, Daniel E. Bergeon, James Beauchamp, Louis J. Brunette, Clifford L. Buckland, Leonard C. Couillard, Albert H. Deneau, Donald L. Fleury, Fred G. Jamar, Richard P. Johnson, Denham H. Lord, Lyle D. Trudell, Joseph M. Yeason, Oliver C. Couillard and Donald R. Rae.

Tungsten wire can be drawn so fine that a pound of it would stretch 950 miles.

Edwin M. Upland Named Chief Clerk

Edwin M. Upland, former resident of Escanaba, has been appointed chief clerk to the division for freight and passenger agent, for the Chicago & North Western Railway in Casper, Wyoming. It was announced today. Mr. Upland started with the C. & N. W. as a ticket clerk, following his return from the service in 1946, and entered the traffic department a short time later. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Upland, of 1222 Stephenson avenue, Escanaba, and his wife is the daughter of Mrs. Omar Lindsay, of Crystal Falls.

BUSY SESSION IN BIKE COURT

Many Youngsters Will Answer Charges On Saturday

The Escanaba bicycle court, conducted by Sgt. Phil Bruce of the Escanaba police department, will have its busiest session of the year Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock. The bike court will be conducted at the city hall council chambers and two dozen or more of youthful violators of the bicycle ordinance will be brought before Judge Bruce.

Most of the youngsters are charged with operating their bicycles without lights after dark but some of the youngsters also are charged with other violations, riding two on a bicycle, riding on sidewalks, riding without holding the handlebars, etc.

Tickets were distributed to 16 youngsters Tuesday and other summons are going out this week. The police department is conducting a strict enforcement campaign of the bicycle ordinance in an effort to reduce the dangers of bicycle accidents.

"Also," he continued, "heavy dew is highly localized. It appears to be particularly heavy in and around Escanaba but elsewhere, in the woods where the danger is greatest, it might be very light and would dry up very quickly."

High winds would increase the danger of a large-scale devastating fire, he added.

Miss Isabel Cass of 621 South 12th street will leave today for Lansing where she will be honored Saturday by radio station WJR as the "4-H Club leader of the month." Miss Cass has been a 4-H leader in Delta county for more than 25 years.

WJR will on Saturday, Oct. 25, at 7:30 a. m. through its Detroit station broadcast a talk by Miss Cass as part of its "Farming Marches On" program.

COUNTY CHEST DRIVE STARTS

Solicitors Seek Goal Of $18,000 For Red Feather Services

The people of Delta county have a definite moral obligation to support the Community Chest campaign in the interests of better citizenship. Rev. James Ward told the solicitors and leaders of the annual campaign at the Sherman Hotel this morning.

"The Red Feather services performed for the benefit of all of the people by those organizations participating in the Delta County Community Chest are helping to create better communities," the speaker said. "The principles taught by such agencies as the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls and Salvation Army are based upon Christian teachings. They are able to reach groups that may not be affiliated with any of our churches. They serve to promote high moral standards and as a consequence these agencies richly deserve the support of all of the people of Delta county."

At campaign headquarters it was reported this morning that first returns from early solicitation in the city of Gladstone are now coming in and indicate cause for optimism that the $18,000 quota within the county will be attained this year.

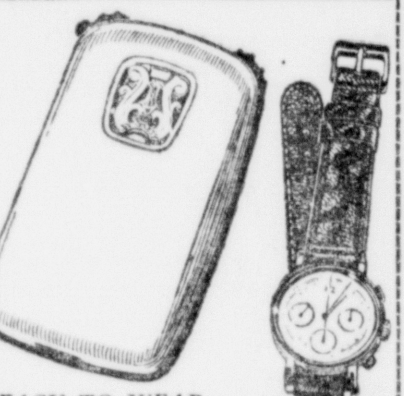

The symbol of the red feather will be conspicuous throughout Delta county in the next 10 days as the campaign progresses. All solicitors are wearing red feathers in their lapels to identify them with the Community Chest program and thousands of others also will be wearing red feathers during this period. Every person who contributes to the fund will be presented with a red feather to indicate his or her support of the Community Chest.

The solicitation campaign will not be carried on in the homes but will be directed primarily at places of employment. However, if any persons are missed by direct solicitation, they are requested to notify the campaign headquarters, 2763-W, or to send their contributions to the Community Chest, First National Bank building, Escanaba.

NORTH RANGE LEASES MINE

Will Operate Oliver Property At Champion

Negaunee—The North Range Mining company has reached an agreement with the Oliver Iron Mining company for an option to lease the Champion mine at Champion, R. S. Archibald, president of North Range said.

This property was opened in 1867 and shipped ore almost continuously from that date until 1910. Operated by the Champion Iron company until 1901, the property was then purchased by the Oliver Iron Mining company. Mining and development work was carried on by Oliver until 1912, when the mine was closed and buildings and machinery dismantled. The property was worked to a total vertical depth of 2,078 feet through a number of incline shafts.

Master Plan For Marquette Urged

Marquette, Mich.—The "master plan" for development of this city, being prepared under direction of the Marquette planning board, will be a "blueprint of the Marquette of the future," George N. Skrub, city planning engineer, told Marquette Rotarians at a noon luncheon in the Hotel Clifton yesterday.

"It will be the first complete document in Marquette's history to review all of the community needs and deficiencies which exist at one time in our city, as well as the first comprehensive program explaining how and in what order these deficiencies can be remedied," he said.

In preparation of that "master plan"—"which will not be prepared behind closed doors at the city hall"—he called for assistance from every one of Marquette's 131 civic, religious, service, patriotic, educational and veterans' organizations in improving Marquette's physical layout.

"The Marquette planning board will serve as a clearing house and as a coordinating body, analyzing the relating needs that we wish all organizations and individuals would channel to them," he said.

City Beach Problem

THE fire that destroyed the city-owned sand-sucker in the bay off Ludington park Saturday also posed a new problem for the city administration. What to do now about the big beach project?

Progress on the beach job has been painfully slow. At the rate of progress by the sand sucker in the present season, it would take a dozen years or more just to build the artificial shoreline that is contemplated for Escanaba's future bathing beach, to say nothing of time necessary for sodding, construction of the bathhouse, etc.

Now the sand-sucker is destroyed and the city officials will have to decide what to do about it. Should the city purchase new sand moving machinery at present astronomical figures and resume the long, tedious and extremely expensive process of building an artificial shoreline a quarter mile out from the natural shore? Should the city look for another area on Ludington park to locate its future bathing beach? Or should the Ludington park beach plan be abandoned entirely and the present temporary beach on the north shore of Sand Point be improved as the permanent municipal beach in Escanaba?

The people of Escanaba have been disillusioned about the grandiose Ludington park beach project. Many people believe that the city put the cart before the horse in building the yacht harbor before completing the swimming area since the bathing beach serves thousands, the yacht harbor only a few.

Whatever the ultimate decision regarding the beach project, now brought into bold relief by the destruction of the sand-sucker, the city officials will need the counsel and advice of the Escanaba people.

DeGaulle Wins In France

THE results of the municipal elections in France have plummeted Charles DeGaulle, leader of the Free French during the war years, back into the forefront of political leadership in France, even though DeGaulle has no voting strength in the French national assembly.

DeGaulle captured most of the municipal offices in Sunday's election, running on an anti-Communist platform. It is significant that although DeGaulle's new party, the RPF, won the municipal elections, they did so at the expense of the center parties, the Socialists and MRP, and not at the expense of the Communists, who more than held their gains of the previous elections in France.

The DeGaulle movement, however, does presage a reawakening of the forces opposed to the spread of Communism in France by serving to unite those forces. In the national assembly election last November, the Communists polled only 25 per cent of the total vote but they led all other parties. This time the Communists polled nearly 30 per cent of the total vote but they finished second best, behind the DeGaulle movement.

Flushed by their victory in the municipal election, the DeGaulle RPF—Rally of the French People—is expected to be a potent factor in the national assembly contests of 1948. The RPF was not organized prior to the national assembly election of last November.

Our Shrinking Cities

URBAN decentralization is going on all over this country. Big cities are growing smaller and rural areas are increasing, according to a warning sounded by a speaker at a recent meeting of municipal finance officers in New York City.

Shrinking cities are showing signs of going through radical changes that will greatly affect their future conditions and aspects, said Dr. Mabel L. Walker, executive director of the American Tax Institute. This authority said that cities will have to rely more and more on fluid tax bases for financing.

The five cities of one million population or more, and the 92 cities of 100,000 or more in this country are slowly declining, according to figures presented at the meeting. The latter contained 29.6 per cent of the population in 1930, but only 23.8 per cent in 1940. None of these cities showed any decline from 1910 to 1920, but practically all lost headway from 1920 to 1940. Manhattan Borough in New York City hit a high of 2,350,000 population in 1910, but since that it has lost about twenty per cent of its residents. In the last decade, Cleveland, St. Louis and Boston all lost population, and Chicago gained only 20,000.

It seems likely, recognized authorities state, that drains are developing that will separate many a large American city in the next couple of decades from perhaps a quarter of its population. If this interpretation is correct, people will continue to get away in large numbers from the town life. The immense "blighted sections" which once housed thousands of people will be converted into parks and breathing places for a fluid population which will flow continually in and out of the great centers, but will be housed to a great extent elsewhere.

State Technicians Quitting

Governor SIGLER has announced that he will call the Michigan legislature into special session to consider a wage increase for state employees. Now it happens that the state legislature has no actual authority over the salaries of state employees, a task and responsibility that has been delegated to the state civil service commission. The governor's move, on the surface, seems somewhat unreasonable in view of the circumstances but in reality it is not.

Although the civil service commission has the responsibility of determining salaries of state employees, the legislature has the responsibility of raising the funds. The amount involved in the proposed pay boost figures at about $8,000,000, of which the state would have to raise approximately $5,000,000.

The decision of the governor to call a special session to deal with the problem obviously is made with the approval and probably at the request of the civil service commission. The commission just does not want to take another $5,000,000 bite out of the state's financial position without the consent of the legislature and that is as it should be.

The problem is particularly acute in the state hospitals where nurses, doctors and technicians are leaving in droves to take higher paying jobs in other institutions. Certainly if the state is to maintain these hospitals, it requires personnel and the personnel apparently can be secured only by meeting the pay standards in similar institutions. The legislature then has no choice except to raise the wages and then find the means of financing the increase.

BUREAU DEFICIT CUT

(Marquette Mining Journal)
In Ontonagon this week the Upper Peninsula Development bureau held its 37th annual meeting and its officers submitted a finance report which was much more pleasant to read than those put into the records during a comparatively long period of lean years when the organization had tough sledding.

At the end of its 37th fiscal year, during which the bureau's receipts reached an all-time high, it was able to reduce its deficit by approximately 50 per cent and it finished the year with a cash balance nearly equal to the remaining deficit of about $2,400.

Major items of revenue were $30,259 from Lure Book advertising and $25,000 in refunds from the state on tourist and resort advertising. Biggest expense item was $43,000 for advertising. Cost of the Lure Book was $24,700.

The Development bureau functions as the chamber of commerce of the Upper Peninsula and is doing good work. Although its continuous effort to increase tourist and resort business is the subject the public hears most about, its activities extend into several other fields, all of them important to progress and prosperity in the area. It is constantly at work for agricultural improvement, industrial expansion and forest and wildlife conservation.

And by no means least in importance is its position as an effective coordinating agency whenever it is essential to marshal all forces and interests of the U. P. to get state or Federal support of any project beneficial to the area. Results it has attained over the years in that capacity have been worth much more than operation of the bureau has cost.

Take My Word For It

Frank Colby

ARE YOU ANXIOUS?

(Scrapbook Item)

Anxious is a greatly overworked word. Exactly what does it mean? Well, let us begin with the original Latin word anxius. It means "distressed, troubled, uneasy," from ango, "to torment, to throttle, to distress." Hence, when there is anxiety there is always dread, fear, mental distress, painful solitude, apprehensive foreboding.

"I'm anxious to meet him," literally means, "I look forward with dread to meeting him; I am filled with apprehension about meeting him." Better and more logical: I'd like to meet him; I want to meet him; I desire to meet him.

"There is one thing I am anxious to make clear." Such a statement expresses anxiety where there actually is none. Better: There is one thing that I should like (I wish, want, desire) to make clear.

"She is anxious to have a large church wedding." Looking forward with apprehensive foreboding to a church wedding? Not likely. Better: She wishes (desires, wants, is eager for, is planning) a large church wedding.

"He is always anxious to assist his students when they need help." Is he in a state of mental distress about helping them? Does he regard helping them with painful solitude? Certainly not. He is always willing (glad, happy, ready) to assist his students.

It is true that some dictionaries sanction anxious in the sense of earnestly desirous, as, "anxious to please." But there are other words that will serve as well, or even better. On the other hand, there is no other single word that means literally what anxious means.

Anxious is a very strong term and, properly speaking, it is not the synonym of de-

London.—The trade-union leaders who direct Britain's government today face a dilemma inexpressibly painful. They must try to convince their following that the only salvation for England lies in more production without less pay.

This is contrary to all the doctrine preached for at least a generation. A Socialist Labor government was to usher in the era of shorter hours and more pay. It was to begin something like the millennium.

Chilts

That is the picture still in the minds of millions of earnest men and women who have absorbed trade-union doctrine. They were brought up on the parliamentary Socialism of Britain's Labor party. The trade unions, the cooperative movement, the party itself were all instruments of education, teaching the belief that Socialism (and the millennium) could come peacefully by the ballot box.

—EXPECTED MORE COMFORTS—

By voting for Socialism, the people would take control of industry, and the profits which had previously gone to a few owners would be distributed among all the wage earners. For many of the faithful, that goal seemed to be achieved when the Labor party triumphed at the polls two years ago. The triumph coincided with the end of the war, as weary Britons, regardless of politics, were expecting a little more margin for comfort and pleasure.

In the two years since the selection, the leaders of the Labor party have come up against the grim facts of England's economic position in the world. They have been reluctant to face the facts—and understandably. The American loan was, in some respects, an effort to postpone a final reckoning.

But that reckoning can no longer be postponed. The deficit of food and raw materials which must be imported into this island cannot be waved away by a political formula. Even if nationalization were to be pushed right across the board, comparatively little would be added to what the workers get. One of the leaders of the Labor party's left wing admitted candidly that it would mean hardly more than 10 per cent added to the pay envelope.

—DOESN'T CREATE WEALTH—

In other words, wealth cannot be created by nationalization. The Socialist government must try to cut the cloth, desperately scarce, to cover the body politic of Great Britain.

The scramble just now is to find the dollars to cover the deficiency of the next six months. If that gap is not filled in, industry will begin to go backward instead of forward. The spiral of depression, as Sir Stafford Cripps warned, will set in and no one can predict where it will end.

This temporary emergency can be resolved by temporary expedients such as unfreezing the remaining $400,000,000 of the American loan. The bottom of all the barrels can be scraped—on one condition. That condition is that long-term assistance will come for Europe and Britain through the Marshall plan. If the last dollar is scraped up and then there is no Marshall plan, the resulting collapse will shake a lot of foundations a long way from this island kingdom.

The immediate task of the Attlee government is to try to frame an austerity budget. That means cracking down on the very people who put the Socialist government in power. For a politician that is a sad necessity, to be put off as long as possible.

There are many, both inside and outside the government, who fear the chain of consequences that cracking down may invite. Take the matter of food subsidies. The government is this year spending more than $1,500,000,000 to underwrite the cost of essential foods.

—HIGHER FOOD BILLS SEEN—

Chancellor of the Exchequer Hugh Dalton, who can never bear to offend a labor voter, has apparently been persuaded that, in the new austerity budget, food subsidies must be reduced. The average citizen will then pay a higher food bill and some of the excess currency will be absorbed. Money far in excess of goods available is exerting a constant inflationary pressure.

But how will the labor voter react when he pays out more of his income for food? He is very likely to come through with a demand for higher pay, even though he is told by his own government that higher pay will add to inflation and make the position of the government that much more difficult.

Even now, without any planned increase in the cost of living, the coal miners' union is demanding an increase of $4 (1 pound) a week on the minimum wage in the industry, which is only $20 weekly. They are pressing that demand on the national coal board, which is the government agency directing the operation of the mines since they were nationalized by the Attlee government. In one coal field a strike already has occurred which meant a loss of coal priceless to Britain's recovery.

It is one thing to crack down on your enemies. It is quite another thing to have to discipline their friends, and that is what the Labor government must try to do.

They are anxious about the possibility of a third world war; we waited anxiously for the hurricane to strike; there is much anxiety over the fate of the ship which is long overdue.

We need the word anxious in describing a state of mind in which there is real anxiety, dread, or foreboding, and it weakens the word to use it otherwise than in constructions like these:

The people are anxious about the possibility of a third world war; we waited anxiously for the hurricane to strike; there is much anxiety over the fate of the ship which is long overdue.

HONOR SYSTEM—We see that the City of Escanaba is planting over 2,000 spring flowering bulbs on public property in the city and that if the people of the community cooperate, and don't tear them up and throw them away next spring, more flowers will be planted next year.

Dunathan

It's an honor system that we hope will be successful. The city will do the planting, the flowers will bloom in the spring, Escanaba folks—and we hope visitors, too—will enjoy them without picking them, and more flowers will result in the years ahead.

This column has several times pointed out the lack of color in our public parks and at the same time complimented the city for planting roses and other flowering shrubs in them. Now spring flowers are to be added and, if there is a minimum of vandalism, the future will be one in which Escanaba's parks can be the most beautiful of any city in Northern Michigan.

NOT UNUSUAL—There are some Escanaba residents who may believe that it is a waste of taxpayers' money to plant flowers. We believe, and hope that the majority of other residents will agree, that it will be money well spent as an investment in civic pride.

We have experienced and have heard of the experiences of others that indicate a lack of respect for property among young people in Escanaba. Fruit trees have been broken, fences damaged, gardens raided, flowers destroyed. It is thoughtless conduct. It is vandalism.

Yet many cities in the United States have planted flowers in public places and the flowers grow and bloom undisturbed. The citizens enjoy them, and come to recognize them as something symbolic of a democracy—a pleasure for poor and rich because they are the property of the people.

CITY OF FLOWERS—Any community in which flowers grow along its streets and in its parks is a better city in which to live. It indicates a city where the residents have an appreciation for beauty and a respect for the property of others.

The municipal dock at Escanaba is an attractive place as it is. Next spring when the 1,500 tulips that were planted this fall burst into colorful bloom it will be beautiful. At Rose Park next spring the daffodils and hyacinths will make a brave showing, and the grounds around the city recreation center will become more brightly because crocus and tulips will bloom there. Incidentally, have you noticed the improvement to the building and grounds at the recreation center?

All of the flowers the city planted this fall will bloom in the spring. In the future there will be plantings of other flowering plants to give color throughout the summer and autumn.

THEY MULTIPLY—Every gardener knows that bulb plants like tulips, hyacinths and crocus multiply. That is, there will be more bulbs within a few years and these may be transplanted to extend the flower beds. Properly cared for and left to grow undisturbed, flowers are plants that can be separated and new plantings made until you have as many as you want or need. But a start must be made.

THERE WILL BE SOME

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

L'Anse—Alphonse Verschure of Manistowish, with a yield of 523 bushels per acre, was adjudged winner tonight of the certified seed growers contest at the Upper Peninsula potato show here.

Newberry—Father Dunleavy was interviewed recently by two members of the Lutheran congregation who sorely needed a bell for Trinity Lutheran church. A bell from a Catholic out-church had not been in use for several years and this bell was given to the congregation for a nominal sum.

Escanaba—Charles Cota sr., left for a month's visit with his sisters and brothers in St. Jerome, Quebec.

Twenty Years Ago

Gladstone—The Misses June and Fern Woodhall left last night for Rhineland where they will visit the Roy Haney and Harry Goldstone homes.

Manistique—John Schuster, Frank Lasich and Levi Michaud left for Princeton, Wis., today to enter their beagles in the field trials there.

Escanaba—August Severinsen and his six-year-old son Willard were seriously burned Thursday and barely escaped death when the acetylene gas tank of a home lighting system ignited. Mrs. Severinsen and their new baby are to return from St. Francis hospital today.

Garden—The Misses Mary Guertin and Mary Potvin left for Flint where they will spend the winter.

So They Say

The situation in London now is very steady. The other countries are going to play ball, which is what we want.—Sir Wilfrid Eady, head of British Financial Mission.

It is putting the cart before the horse to talk of calling the committees. The $74 question is when will the information be available. Congress will not act in the dark. It is not going to write blank checks.—Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg (R.) of Michigan.

Undoubtedly there will be some acts of vandalism when the flowers bloom next spring. People who believe that anything not nailed down or fenced in is "public property" and therefore "mine" will destroy some of the flowers.

As we have said before, it is the hope that such acts will be kept to a minimum. The young child and the thoughtless person must be taught by the example of others that "public property" is "ours" rather than "mine." Only in this way can there be that cooperative respect for the rights of others so necessary in daily living.

BENEFICIAL EFFECT—Flowers blooming in a city are a temptation to very young children, whether the flowers are in a park or in a private yard.

All too often parents do not teach their children the difference between constructive and destructive play. The child who lives in a home where flowers grow and are cared for and admired learns to live with them. He appreciates them without desiring them as something to clutch in the hand, or to break and tear and destroy.

The planting of flowers in public parks is, therefore, an experiment in city-wide family living. The flowers belong to all of us and they will live and bloom if we protect them. Parents who will cooperate can in this way teach their children the pleasure that goes with natural beauty, and valuable lesson of respect for property.

New York, (AP)—Celebrity roundup:

Three young schoolteachers on a visit to Manhattan decided they wanted to see some celebrities.

Figuring that even the shyest of the famous have to come out to eat, they decided the best stalling ground would be a well known downtown restaurant at lunchtime.

They came early and got a good table. The food was wonderful, the check was more reasonable than they expected, but the junket was a complete flop for the girls.

"Not a single celebrity in the whole place," they wailed. "We might as well go shopping."

As the disappointed teachers left they passed a bushy-haired man at the next table. He was Leopold Stokowski, the symphonist conductor. The mountaineer man they passed unnoticed in a corner was Bert Lahr, the comedian.

The truth is few people look less like celebrities in real life than the celebrities themselves. They don't have to. The most glamorous girls you see about town aren't famous. They'd just like to be.

Unless a celebrity has a physical trademark as prominent as Jimmy Durante's schnozzle or deliberately tries to draw the public eye, he can move about the city ordinarily as unrecognized as a sitting fly in a raisin pie.

Joan Crawford, if she wore a frumpy hairdo, a sleazy dress and stenciled her rouge on wrong, tramp all day through a woman's department store and remain as anonymous as the third assistant floorwalker.

I would nominate Harpo Marx as the celebrity who least looks like himself. I once sat across from him at dinner in a Hollywood restaurant, and learned he was only through the conversation of others in the party. The curly wig is Harpo's mark, and he doesn't wear it away from the studio. He leaves the harp there too. Doesn't even carry a zither. The celebrity who gains most through first-hand meeting is Eleanor Roosevelt. The newsreels and newspaper pictures convey only a fraction of her warm personality and the magnanimity in her friendliness. The same is true of General Omar Nelson Bradley, President Truman and Senator Bob Taft.

The celebrities found the easiest to talk to were H. L. Mencken and the late General "Georgie" Patton. The hardest was an Indian chieftain. He couldn't even say "ugh" clearly.

Most celebrities don't sparkle at first meeting. Among those whose conversation I found most interesting were the late Maj. Gen. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr. and Jan Masaryk, Czechoslovakia's foreign minister. Roosevelt, relaxing after a trip through Tunisian front line areas, used to lie in the palm shade and recite poetry. Masaryk talks more clearly and easily than any other diplomat I ever interviewed.

Celebrities often are more courteous than ordinary folk under stress. A young advertising friend of mine once walked out of a revolving door in Radio City here and crunched down heavily on the foot of an elderly gentleman.

He looked up and found himself looking into the winning face of John D. Rockefeller, Jr. somewhat awed, the young man stuttered:

"E-E-Excuse m-m-me!"

"That's all right, son," smiled Rockefeller, and limped on. In relating the incident the young man now starts off with: "I'd I ever tell you about the time I put my foot down on Rockefeller?"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—Wall Street lawyers are going into a huddle with the justice department today in a last-gasp effort to stave off the biggest anti-trust suit the nation has seen in years. What they are trying to head off is a crackdown on the 17 biggest banking houses in New York and the justice department's demand that they quit monopolizing the money marts of the nation.

Wall Street lawyers now have adopted the clever strategy of asking that the case be arbitrated by the securities and exchange commission, which has changed a lot since FDR promised to drive out the money changers and which is now safely dominated by Wall Street.

However, Attorney General Tom Clark, with strong backing from President Truman, is determined to go ahead with the case—even though it involves the former banking firms of three members of the Truman cabinet.

The list of defendants in this case reads like the guest list at one of Mrs. Astor's swankiest parties. It takes in the blue bloods of New York's investment banking business, from the relatives of the late J. P. Morgan to Sir William Wiseman, former head of British intelligence and now head of Kuhn Loeb.

It also includes the family of New York's ex-Governor Lehman—namely Philip Lehman, Robert Lehman, Allen S. Lehman. Also on the list are John Hertz, former chief of the Yellow Taxis, and John Hancock, right-hand adviser and war assistant to Bernie Baruch.

Thomas S. Gates, chairman of the board of the University of Pennsylvania and member of Deere and Co., is also on the list, as well as Dillon Read, the former firm of Secretary of Defense Forrestal; and Harriman Ripley, the former firm of Secretary of Commerce Harriman and acting Secretary of State Lovett.

The list also includes some of the men who controlled war production as members of the WPB—such as Sidney Weinberg, head of Goldman Sachs, and Arthur Bunker of Lehman Brothers, who acted as wartime czar of aluminum production and threw his weight in favor of Alcoa's monopoly.

The justice department is now charging that this long list of banker defendants not only conspired to monopolize the sale of stocks and bonds in the United States, but also stifled other business competing with their banking clients.

—STIFLING AMERICAN BUSINESS—

For instance, if a manufacturing firm which has not worked through these 17 blue-chip bankers applies to them for money, the money is refused, according to the justice department, if the applicant firm competes with a company whose financial deals the bankers already handle.

This, the justice department claims, puts the control of vital American business throughout the nation virtually in the hands of 17 firms in Wall Street.

By placing directors on the boards of companies which they finance, the big bankers continue to dictate policy long after their stock or bond issue is floated.

How widely the "17 Club" controls American money markets is shown by the following justice department figures: between 1936 and 1945, the 17 now facing justice department prosecution handled 67.9 per cent of all the securities sold in the U. S. A.

There are a total of 254 well-recognized investment houses in the country, but the 237 who didn't belong to the "17 Club" handled only one-third of the security business.

Members of the "17 Club" who got most of the gravy were: Morgan Stanley, with 14.6 per cent of the security business; First Boston Corp., with 12.2 per cent; Dillon, Read (Forrestal's old firm), with 8.5; Kuhn Loeb, with 6.8; Blyth & Co. (Charles E. Mitchell's firm), 4.3.

—INSURANCE COMPANY DEAL—

The justice department also has discovered that these 17 blue-chip bankers have conspired with some of the big insurance companies to dominate the money markets.

On Dec. 5, 1941, just two days before Pearl Harbor, justice department records show that many of the "17 Club" got together with Prudential Insurance, Equitable Life Assurance, New York Life, Mutual Life of New York, and Home Life to work out a deal whereby the insurance companies and the investment bankers cooperated in floating securities. This was followed by another meeting on May 5, 1942, at which all members of the "17 Club" plus additional insurance companies agreed:

1. That insurance companies would get first whack at 50 per cent of any stock and bond flotation in which they express an interest;

2. Insurance companies refrain from bidding on stock and bonds offered through competitive bidding;

3. Insurance companies also discourage other investment bankers from selling securities through competitive bidding.

All of this, the justice department claims, has kept money rates at "artificially high, non-competitive prices" and made the cost of floating stocks and bonds "exorbitant."

Note—Bankers included in the justice department case other than those named above are: Union Securities Corp., Eastman, Dillon Co., White Held and Co., Harris, Hall Co., Kidder, Peabody and Co., Stone and Webster Securities Corp., Glorie Forgan and Co.

TAXPAYERS PUT UP 750 MILLION

Michigan Study Shows Cost Of Government Until Next June

Lansing, (AP)—State and local government will cost Michigan taxpayers more than $750,000,000 by next June, it was estimated in a preliminary study for the Michigan Industrial Conference's Tax Study committee.

The report, said to be the first overall survey of Michigan tax payments, was prepared by Joseph H. Creighton, field agent of the Michigan Manufacturers' Association, for the industrial conference as a prelude to suggestions for meeting the state's fiscal problem. It was prepared with the cooperation of state agencies.

In the fiscal year ending last June 30, the report said, state and local government had an $694,700,000 income, of which the state netted 22.5 and local government 77.5 per cent.

The estimate for the current fiscal year included an expected further increase because of higher prices.

The report said that in the past fiscal year the state took in $382,000,000, but gave $226,200,000 back to local government, leaving itself with $155,800,000. In addition, local government raised $312,500,000 locally, largely through the real estate and personal property tax.

The survey noted that Detroit's operating budget for the same year was about two-thirds of the state government's: $95,500,000 to $156,000,000 for the state.

The report argued that the further operation of the sales tax diversion amendment will take another $28,000,000 from the state's general fund this year and should be considered an added cost of government unless offset by reduction in local government income.

It estimated that $250,000,000 will be raised in real estate taxes during the current fiscal year.

County government raised $13,701,546 from miscellaneous sources of revenue, other than state payments and the real estate tax, the survey said. It had $80,904,160 in revenues, $32,501,530 from the state and $34,701,083 from real estate taxes.

County government will use about $91,000,000 this year, the report estimated.

The report declared that cities and villages had a total income of $198,038,536 in the past year, of which $44,633,311 was raised locally, other than through real estate. Expenditures for that year were estimated at $8,000,000 less.

Township government, the survey said, received about $4,925,780 in the last computable year, 1946, with expenditures about $400,000 less. Eliminating real estate taxes of $3,152,406 and state payments of $1,110,750, the townships raised about $726,000 from other sources.

The report declared that $28,492,014 was raised by real estate tax in 1946 for debt service alone.

Britain and France each controls approximately one-third the area of Africa.

Cows' Comfort Will Boost Milk Yield

Washington, (SS)—"Milk from comfortable cows" may be the advertising slogan of day after tomorrow. Agricultural engineers of the U. S. Department of Agriculture have undertaken an ambitious research program to learn if possible under what working conditions a cow will give the largest yield of milk on the most favorable cost basis.

It is known already that cows respond to the discomfort of either heat or cold by producing less milk. However, quantitative relations between temperature and humidity levels on the one hand and milk yields on the other have never been exactly determined. That is what the "bovine engineers" in the Department's special laboratory at Columbia, Mo., have undertaken to do.

Small groups of dairy cows will be kept in rooms where conditions can be exactly controlled. After an adjustment period, with conditions alike in both rooms, one factor—temperature for example—will be shifted up or down in one of the rooms while the other remains unchanged, as a control. Changes in milk yield will be noted.

Children Playing Matches Are Blamed For Munising Fire

Munising—The Munising fire department was called to the home of Steve Lettel, Wetmore, at 2:20 p. m. Monday to extinguish a fire in a storage shed caused by children playing with matches. In addition to the shed a dog house and chicken house were destroyed with an estimated loss of $1200.

Fire Chief George MacKenzie stated that this was the first call to be answered with the aid of the new fire truck, purchased a short time ago. MacKenzie stated that without the high pressure fog method now employed it would have been impossible to have saved the residence.

The new truck carries 430 gallons of water which goes ten times as far as with the old low pressure method and also allows the firemen to get closer to the fire due to the wall of moisture before them.

Alger County Roads May Not Be Plowed

Munising—Unless some action is taken soon by the Alger county board of supervisors or Alger townships, county roads will not be plowed of snow this winter.

The county road commission, at a regular meeting Monday, decided that since funds are not available to plow all routes, only state highways, for which the state allots plowing money, will be cleared this winter. There are 116 miles of state highway and 260 miles of county roads.

Because of the lack of money in the commission's coffers, and with little in prospect, the road commission took its action, pointing out that a 10 per cent slice of state liquor tax monies once helped out on snow removal. The veto of a one cent per gallon gas tax boost this year by Governor Sigler and increased materials, labor and operating costs have had their effect in paring-down the commission's bank balance.

Plan Party—The Drama Club will hold its first regular meeting of the year at Mrs. Nina Doty's cottage at Five Mile Point on Friday evening. In charge of arrangements were Mrs. Eugene Williams, Mrs. George Cooley, Mrs. A. M. Stebler and Mrs. Keith Clement.

Q. What was the "meal-tub plot"?

A. It was a supposed Presbyterian plot in England to seize the crown and prevent a popish succession. A young man named Dangerfield, in 1680, first revealed it to the then Duke of York. When it was proved false and Dangerfield was committed to Newgate prison, he declared that what he had told the duke no doubt was a forgery to cover a real plot. The real plot he claimed was a popish one and that notes of this sham could be found in a meal tub in the house of a certain Roman Catholic midwife. The evidence was found there and the plot became known as the "meal-tub plot."

Q. Can milk be cooked with oatmeal without losing its flavor?

A. Dr. Ben-Ami Ben-Dor, director of the Pentagon Nutrition laboratory recently explained that milk could be cooked in oatmeal without losing flavor and without scorching. Powdered milk may also be used and the result is equally as palatable and nourishing.

Q. How do lending institutions determine whether a veteran's income is sufficient to repay a loan under the GI bill?

A. The lending institutions are authorized to determine whether a veteran has sufficient income to obtain a GI loan of a specified amount. The general rule is that no loan should exceed a sum two and one-half times a veteran's annual income, or that the monthly payment is approximately one-fourth of his monthly income.

Q. Why do we generally feel colder out-of-doors than in-doors?

A. Because the air around us is always changing. As fast as one portion of air becomes warmer through contact with our bodies, another, colder part, surrounds us and absorbs more heat.

Q. When was ice hockey first played in the U. S.?

A. In the winter of 1894-95 a group of U. S. college students visited Canada and became enthusiastic about hockey. On their return they introduced it as a winter sport in the U. S.

Q. Are people of the U. S. consuming as much fish as before the war?

A. Due to the lowered catch and the diversion of canned products to foreign needs, the per capita consumption of fish now is lower than before the war. There also is more foreign competition for the U. S. domestic market. Other protein foods, as meat, cheese, poultry and eggs compete for the consumer's dollar as well.

Q. Is it true that there were many fewer Japanese prisoners-of-war than there were German and Italian POW's?

A. There were 8,108,983 captured Germans and Italians, and only 41,464 Japanese.

Fence post crops are grown on many farms, often in gullies where the trees serve a dual purpose of crop and control for erosion.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

"Take Pen in Hand"

This column has been running for so long that its readers, in towns like ours all over the country, are beginning to "take pen in hand" and write us what they think.

Some of them take me over the coals for what I say—like the column I ran on planting alfalfa. Others write, "I liked your column yesterday, but..." All of them have different points of view.

From where I sit, that's the way it should be. Everybody's entitled to an opinion—and it's those very differences, and friendly criticism, that make for tolerance and better understanding—whether it's ideas on planting alfalfa or choosing between beer and cider.

The more folks air their differences right out in public, with a neighborly respect for the other person's liberties and point of view, the closer we are to the American principle of individual freedom—whether it's in a choice of crops or beverages.

It pays to share the line

There still aren't enough telephone facilities to go around. Until there are, party lines will help give service to more people. That service can be satisfactory to all if everyone shares the line considerably.

Good party-line neighbors keep calls short... stay off the line when others are using it... always carefully replace the receiver when they're through talking.

Science Of German Farmer Is On Par With Others But Machines Are Below-Brock

When Germany embarked on World War II she was 80 per cent self-sufficient, agriculturally speaking. What has happened since then is history, but it is a cinch that she is not producing more than she was then.

Figures on this are not available but Capt. George B. Brock, recently assigned to the U. S. Army and Air Force recruiting station in Escanaba and currently serving at the recruiting sub-station in Marquette, has made some interesting observations.

Captain Brock arrived in Europe on D-day plus 28 and went through France, Belgium and Germany with U. S. Military Government as an agricultural officer and his ultimate destination in Germany was in Regierungsbezirk, Unterfranken, Bavaria. This, because he held a bachelor and master degree in agronomy from the University of Georgia and had had six years experience in the State experimental station in Georgia, prior to entering service.

German Loves Soil

"The German farmer loves his soil and in most cases it has been well cared for," stated Captain Brock. Of course bombs, marching armies and labor shortage were bound to curtail this.

Captain Brock said that the Germans are on a par with other countries in scientific processes, but their machinery is not as highly developed. Much of the work is still manual, according to Captain Brock. In the area for which the captain was agricultural officer three years, potatoes, small grains and sugar and forage beets were the principal crops.

The duties of the agricultural officer and his GI staff in occupied Germany vary greatly, however, from the civilian agent's. Not only does he advise and confer with the former non-Nazi agricultural agents, but he must supervise the entire production and distribution. Nightly patrols to determine secret activities and hoarding were common duty with these men.

According to pre-established quotas based on soil productivity, seed, fertilizers available and man-power, each acre of German soil is expected to yield a specific amount. If any variation in productivity occurs, investigations are made. Allowances are made for understandable causes but a close watch is kept on all production.

When a farmer has his produce harvested and ready for market, in conformance with rigid standards, he keeps a small portion for himself—the rest is turned over to distributing authorities. The farmer who produces most in quantity beets were the principal crops.

THE TRUTH ABOUT PIN-WORMS

Serious facts are revealed by recent medical reports. One out of every three people examined was found to be a victim of Pin-Worms—often without suspecting it! And this ugly infection can cause real distress if neglected.

So watch for the warning signs that may mean Pin-Worms—especially the annoying rectal itch. Get JAYNE'S P-W right away. P-W is a medically sound treatment based on an officially recognized and highly effective drug element. The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets work in a special way to remove Pin-Worms easily and safely.

Ask your druggist: P-W for Pin-Worms!

and per acre is awarded certificates entitling him to purchase the best seed, new equipment and fertilizers.

As to the amount of subterfuge and violation existing in that part of Germany occupied by the United States, Captain Brock was unwilling to comment. That a certain amount can be expected does not surprise anyone—not even an Army official.

Farmers Hard Workers

The majority of German farmers, stated Captain Brock, are in earnest about raising enough crops for a living and for his fellowmen. Nazi officials in the agricultural program in Germany were removed from office and all officials who remained on the job in agriculture were thoroughly screened by the U. S. Army personnel.

In response to questions of several Escanabans interested in sending packages to Germany, Captain Brock states that a great deal of time is consumed in delivery. At least six weeks should be allowed. Wherever foodstuffs are included in the U. S. gifts, and the German Red Cross or the Burgo-meister in the city or village distributes it to needy persons. However, when the return address and postage requirements are guaranteed by the sender, it is returned.

We asked Captain Brock about letters from Burgomeisters and other German natives to Mayors of Gladstone and Escanaba. Captain Brock stated that it is not surprising, for often a German, starving or with a large family, sees persons with relatives in the United States receiving packages. He naturally strives to acquire some, too, through a pseudo-friendship or play on the oft-mentioned generosity and sym-thy of Americans.

Captain Brock left Germany five months ago and was stationed at Fort Riley, Kan., two months before receiving orders to Escanaba area in the U. S. Army and Airforce recruiting service.

BIG STARS RUN OUT OF FUEL

Formation of Supergiants Is Studied By Science

New York. (SS)—While the average star is husbanding its resources so well that it can shine for many billions of years, a super giant star literally burns its candle at both ends at such a rate it soon runs out of atomic fuel, Dr. Lyman Spitzer Jr., director of the Princeton University Observatory, stated at the Cooper Union Evening Forum held here.

Super giant stars are more than some 10,000 times brighter than our sun. Those shining today were not shining at their present rate 100,000,000 years ago. The super giants we see today in our own galaxy and elsewhere will not be shining 100,000,000 years from now. Whereas most of the stars are probably several billion years old, super giants run out of atomic fuel within a mere 100,000,000 years—a few minutes astronomically speaking.

In explaining how these spendthrift stars were formed, Dr. Spitzer pointed out that super giants are observed only in regions of highly tenuous and rarefied clouds. These clouds of interstellar matter, observed only in spiral galaxies, absorb starlight in the same way that clouds in our own atmosphere absorb light from the sun.

Study of these obscuring clouds in our own galaxy has shown that they are made up of solid particles so minute that 10,000 of them laid end to end would make a line as long as a period on this printed page, he said. Associated with these tiny particles are also individual atoms wandering about in space. Super giant stars, concentrated in regions rich with interstellar obscuring matter, are believed to be formed continuously from this material.

Three million adults in the United States never attended any kind of school.

Canada has increased its food production more than 140 per cent since 1939.

Deer Hunters Can't Isolate Themselves

BY JAMES A. O. CROWE

Lansing, Oct. 22 (P)—It is going to be harder than ever for deer hunters to "get away from it all" this year.

Modern communications are going to make deer hunting less and less of an excuse for the busy executive or professional man to isolate himself for a few days from every day cares.

State police and the conservation department are working out details of what they hope will be a highly efficient "call service" for deer hunters.

For a number of years, the conservation department has operated a rather haphazard service to get emergency messages to deer hunters.

It worked something like this: Persons going out after deer who expected the possibility of emergency calls dropped into the nearest conservation department field office, gave his name and the location of his camp.

This information was relayed to the Higgins Lake Training school at Roscommon.

The hunter's family or office seeking to reach him in an emergency called the school, the proper field office was notified and a conservation officer was dispatched to carry the message to the hunter.

This year, however, all the facilities of the state police are going to be added to the service and it is going to be decentralized.

If the plan works out, deer hunters who want to or feel obligated to make themselves available for emergency calls will be able to drop into any state police post or conservation department field office.

Special cards will be available to them carrying blanks for their name, where they will be and like information.

Then when the family or office has to get in touch with their deer hunter, they can call the nearest state police post or conservation office. The call will be relayed to the East Lansing state police headquarters where all the information will have been collected.

The state police dispatcher will then radio the call to the conservation department or state police car which is nearest the hunter's camp and the officers will relay the message to the hunter.

Conservation department cars are equipped with radios tuned to one of the state police channels so they will get the calls as fast as state police cars.

Officials who are working out the new plan hope it will be faster and more convenient for the home folks than the former set-up.

Princess Elizabeth To Be Protected By Police Precautions

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The extent of the politico-social upheaval which is sweeping the world is strikingly illustrated in British officialdom's quietly spoken but nevertheless sensational announcement that plans for Princess Elizabeth and Lt. Philip Mountbatten to drive through Central London, so the crowds could see them after the forthcoming wedding, have been cancelled to safeguard the heiress apparent to the throne.

Scotland yard and the cabinet feel that such a ride would involve risks ("doubtless remote") which shouldn't be taken. The risks aren't specified, but they are self-explanatory in these days when political passions are producing violence and death in many countries.

England and her friends are shocked by this shadow of threat to her charming princess. It has been long since that tight little isle of Democracy has known anything like this. Up until the late war the British royal family moved about freely, and mingled with crowds, even as you and I. Frequently, too, their protection was confined to a small and more or less invisible escort.

During the many years this correspondent had headquarters in London, it was a common sight to see Queen Mary and other members of the royal house shopping, or motoring through the street. The Prince of Wales (later King Edward VIII and now the Duke of Windsor) used to drive his own car, both day and night, without any escort.

So far as the late King George V was concerned, he was absolutely fearless in crowds. When he and Queen Mary went to India in 1911 to be crowned Emperor and Empress, they drove through Calcutta in an open carriage, with thousands of natives swarming the streets and crowding about the vehicle in an effort to touch the royal pair. And George refused to let his anxious mounted escort move the people back.

Despite the cancellation of the post-wedding drive, thousands will have a chance to see the bride and groom as they ride from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Abbey and back over a route of less than a mile. However, Scotland yard will take extreme precautions to safeguard that journey.

Until 1800, snow was not without reach of the average man because of its high cost. But in that year the cost came down when a French scientist discovered soda could be made from common salt and his research made soap available to the average man.

1728 Receive Old Age Benefits From Escanaba Offices

Benefits under the Federal Old Age and Survivors Insurance program totalling $29,564.00 a month are now in force for 1728 residents of Chippewa, Delta, Luce, Mackinac, Menominee and Schoolcraft counties, Carl L. Johnson, manager of the Escanaba, Michigan, Field Office of the Social Security Administration announced today.

The monthly benefits in the above area are distributed as follows: 723 retired workers, age 65 or over, receiving $15,939.00 a month; 185 retired workers' wives, age 65 or over, receiving $2,203.00 a month; 117 young widows with children under 18, receiving $2,254.00 a month; 586 children of retired or deceased workers, receiving $6,995.00 a month; 106 widows, 65 or over, of insured workers, receiving $2,050.00 a month; and 11 dependent parents of deceased workers, receiving $123.00 a month.

Many months of the counties served by the Escanaba, Michigan, Field Office are losing benefits because they fail to file a claim for them. Mr. Johnson emphasized the fact that payments under old age and survivors insurance are not automatic. A claim must be filed with the Social Security Administration before payment can be made.

Norway Concerns

Makes Jeep Tops

Norway, Mich.—The rugged power of the jeep which passed such strenuous tests during the past World War, and the practicability and attractiveness of the station wagon have been combined in the Cozy-Top jeep, designed and manufactured by the Cozy-Top company, one of Norway's newest industries.

Organized by Caesar Evance, Roy Bergwall and Henning Thoreson, widely-known residents of Norway, the company, which was formed separately from the Bergwall-Evance Auto Sales, began production several weeks ago.

Long interested in manufacturing, Bergwall and Evance hit upon the idea of converting jeeps—both Army and civilian—into more comfortable and practical conveyances by enclosing them in wood. They broached the idea to Thoreson, a skilled woodworker, who designed the present Cozy-Top.

Hampers by the difficulty in obtaining the necessary machines to make the wood parts, the company to date has equipped some 20 jeeps with the Cozy-Top. Although several were local orders, the majority are sold to the Green Bay Auto Distributing Company, which sells them as fast as they are painted.

PANTS SAVE BOY

New Castle, Pa., Oct. 21 (P)—Three-year-old Larry Cardwell is alive today because his pants had a strong seat.

Larry wandered too close to the edge of a cliff above the Pennsylvania railroad tracks and tumbled over. His overalls caught on a rock ledge, whence police rescued him, frightened but unharmed.

Anchorage, Alaska, was founded in 1914 as a construction camp for the Alaskan Railroad.

Typical Housewife
Studies Problems
Of Food Buying

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Correspondent

New York, (NEA)—Wanda McConville, of Rural Route 2, Lakeview, Mich., knows about the economic revolution that has hit Americans in the stomach. She has two sons, four and eleven, and a big-eating ex-GI husband to feed on a $200-a-month income.

NEA Service, in cooperation with her local Parent-Teachers Association, brought her to New York to meet political figures, educators, economists and other key persons in the food price picture. Until then she didn't know that she was part of the economic revolution affecting national politics, American foreign policy and the struggle between private enterprise and Communism.

NEA Service selected Mrs. McConville because the food problems and budget headaches she faces today are just like those in millions of other low-income American homes.

She graduated from Battle Creek high school, got married. When war came, she followed her soldier husband, John, all over the United States, taking along her baby, until John sailed overseas. When he returned, they bought a house on his GI loan. They have a small vegetable garden. She does all her own work, washes with a 10-year-old washing machine, cooks all the meals, including luncheon every day for her husband, who works in a factory three miles away. She does her own nails and can't afford professional hair-do's.

She tries to do her part in community activities. She is grade mother in her oldest son's grammar school, active in PTA work, and helped her husband in his recent pledge campaign for their church. They raised $1900 in three days.

The zooming food price spiral which is changing the American standard of living leaves the McConvilles practically no money for recreation. They can't ask people in for dinner. They rarely can get to a movie.

They have only a vague understanding of "economic parity for farmers," and the Marshall Plan, but they do know that something has happened to prices that knocks such luxuries as baby sitters right out of the budget.

Every Saturday night, the married couples meet at some one house. Everybody brings along his own drinks and part of the food. Wanda and John take the children, too, unless Wanda's sister or John's mother is in town and can stay with them.

They both belong to the Battle Creek Civic Players. John is an amateur actor. Wanda property and sound effects man. One stays home with the children when the other goes.

"Being with the players is the only free way we know of keeping circulation," Wanda explains. "We meet friends, have fun working together. When I get home, I don't feel quite so hopeless."

To find out some of the answers for the millions of other Wandas who live pretty much the same kind of lives, NEA Service brought Mrs. McConville to New York.

She asked Mayor William O'Dwyer if women should start local buyers' strikes against food prices.

"Buyers' strikes against food prices must be nationwide. Otherwise they won't work," he answered.

With NEA's food editor, she talked with New York's commissioner of Markets, met a top authority on the financial aspects of marriage, huddled with the retail grocers' president and with the grocery manufacturers' president. She inspected a food school where high school boys and girls learn to run restaurants, become butchers and bakers; she saw nutrition and home economics experts at work, talked with taxi drivers who strive to live on about the same income she has, talked with editors and politicians. Wanda's reaction, after this head-on experience:

"Out in Lakeview, Mich., nobody seems interested in anything outside the limits of our little town. What I've seen and heard has stunned me. I thought food prices were just a problem for me and my family. I've learned they are a threat to world stability, to peace. And I am part of the picture."

Hilliard-Harter
Of interest to many residents of Manistique, is the following account from the Grand Rapids Press, of the wedding of Betty Hilliard and Jack Harter:

"Calvin Seminary chapel was the setting for the wedding of Betty Hilliard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Hilliard, Ridge-wood-st., and Jack Harter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Harter, Diamond-av. The wedding took place Saturday at 8 p. m. and Rev. Quintman Smith of Big Rapids officiated. Baskets of white gladioli and palms and lighted tapers decorated the altar. Mrs. Lorena Briggs, pianist, played the wedding music and accompanied Mary Beth Parker, who sang Because and I Love You Truly.

"The bride who was given in marriage by her father wore a white broadcloth train dress styled with a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves and a full train. Her fingertip-length veil was held by a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with white baby chrysanthemums.

"Mrs. Henry VanderMeer attended her sister as matron of honor and was attired in a blue taffeta gown. She carried a bouquet of salmon colored gladioli.

"Bridesmaids were Glenna Blakeslee of Detroit and Mrs. D. O. Stuij of Bostwick Lake. They wore pink and blue taffeta dresses respectively and carried bouquets of purple and yellow gladioli.

"Marilyn Denton and Gary Hamilton, cousins of the bride, were flower girl and ring bearer. "Robert Harter, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and Dick Rogers and Stanley Hula were ushers.

Inland Lime & Stone Head Speaks To Grads

Industry is a highly specialized job calling for trials and tribulations little dreamed of by young people who seek to take up public relations as a life work, Clarence B. Randall, president of the Inland Lime and Stone Company and vice president of the Inland Steel Company, states in an article in the current issue of the Atlantic Monthly.

It is natural that the specialized job of dealing with the employees of industry should hold great attraction for students, he states, and he adds that he finds great hope in what this ambition may mean to industry fifteen years from now. It will be a great thing for the country, when leaders, both in the unions and among industrial executives, can be chosen from mature men who not only possess special personal gifts for the work, but who have also had the best training that higher education can provide.

"Mrs. Henry VanderMeer attended her sister as matron of honor and was attired in a blue taffeta gown. She carried a bouquet of salmon colored gladioli.

"Bridesmaids were Glenna Blakeslee of Detroit and Mrs. D. O. Stuij of Bostwick Lake. They wore pink and blue taffeta dresses respectively and carried bouquets of purple and yellow gladioli.

Dealing with the employees of ambitions. He must clearly see that wealth must be produced before it can be divided, he stresses. Strength of Character Needed Mr. Randall readily concedes that not all men on the management side are high minded and honest and that the same is true with those who are at the head of our labor movement. For that reason, he states, the representative of industry must have strength of character to meet the onslaughts of those leaders in the labor factions whose obsession for power often overcomes their scruples.

Must Learn Hard Way If a young man should elect to seek employment on the management side, he will first have to go through the processes of learning the business, said Mr. Randall. There is no substitute for learning things the hard way, and whoever tries to leap over his personal experience is handicapping himself in his future development. The man who learns through the hard way along with a sound educational background, will be an asset to the company employing him and at the same time never forget his interest in and his affection for the individual worker. He will never let the employee under his jurisdiction become a card in a file or just a number in a union.

Great forces are abroad in our social life, says the writer in conclusion, and great problems lie ahead which need solution. Young men are plunging into this hard work with a light heart and that is the spirit industry needs. Universities themselves are making a great contribution. A growing success of their handling of this important subject is recognized.

Mr. Randall formerly resided at Ishpeming.

Two new courses are offered in the series of adult education classes scheduled to begin on the evening of Nov. 4. These are a home planning course, to be conducted by S. B. Carlson and a drama class under direction of Marion Frederickson.

The home planning course is of value to anyone interested in planning or rearranging their homes, but is of special interest to those who wish to modernize their kitchens, bath rooms or reorganize plumbing or heating facilities.

The course will be concluded with the production of a one-act play. However a minimum number of from 10 to 12 adults is necessary in order to make a course of this sort successful. The goal and test of this course would, of course, be the play which could be presented before a PTA group or adult audience.

Local Forest Fire Situation Still Regarded As Grave

The fire situation in this vicinity continues to be grave, but definite improvement over conditions of Sunday and Monday is noted by local forestry and conservation officials.

Humidity conditions have materially improved—on 15 degrees on Sunday to 46 on Wednesday morning. No new fires have broken out in the past twenty-four hours and most of those fought on Sunday and Monday have been put out or confined to a relatively small area.

Fires still burning are one about two miles north of Isabella in a swamp area, a dried peat bog about thirty miles north of the city on what is known as the mint farm and the one Mead creek south of Germfask, the last named one being the most destructive.

Conservation officers and employees attached to forestry divisions have been ordered to cancel regular assignments and stand by for call to fire duty.

WITHER LEAGUE RALLY SPONSOR

Reformation Gathering at Lutheran Church Sunday

A Reformation Rally will be held Sunday in the First Lutheran church of this city under the auspices of the District Luther league.

Dr. Richard Reusch will be the speaker both at the afternoon meeting at 3:30 o'clock, and in the evening at 7:30. The public is invited to attend either or both of the meetings.

Dr. Reusch has an amazing record as a missionary of the Lutheran Augustana Synod in the northern, Tanganyika, African field. During seven years time, the membership of the African congregations under his supervision has increased from 39,000 to 70,000. Most significant of all, the congregations have been organized under an indigenous Church which has become largely self-supporting, self-governing, and self-propagating. Moreover, it has its own school system, with more than 21,000 pupils enrolled.

Dr. Reusch is a descendant from German forebears who had migrated to Russia 250 years ago. He was born in the Asiatic Caucasus near Mount Ararat. As a youth he was trained for military service and became a Cossack officer. When the Russian bolsheviks invaded Estonia in 1917, Dr. Reusch organized a group of former officers to fight the Russians. First he fought under Estonian General Laydoner. Later he joined forces with General Mannerheim in the struggle to free Finland of the communist yoke. When that struggle was over he went to Denmark, and when the Lutheran Augustana Synod took over the former German missions in Tanganyika, he offered his services as a missionary.

Dr. Reusch is now home on furlough and is teaching part time at Gustavus Adolphus College at St. Peter, Minn.

HARBOR REPORT IS UNFAVORABLE

Cost Would Exceed The Benefits, Dep't Decides

District and Division Engineers of the War Department have given an unfavorable review report of the preliminary examination for improvement of the local harbor, according to information received here.

The notice states the report "is unfavorable to the desired or alternate improvements or to a detailed survey at this time."

"The principal reasons for the adverse conclusion are that the cost of either of the small boat harbor improvements desired by local interests or the alternate small boat harbor improvement considered by the District Engineer is considered to be economically justified by the prospective benefits to commercial fishing or recreational light draft vessel navigation and that reasonably adequate natural shelter from storms for small craft now exists north of Saunders Point, a Gladstone."

Efforts have been made for years here to obtain improvement of the local harbor with federal assistance. Army engineers within the past two years made a preliminary survey of the local harbor and later suggested a plan for improvement which, however, did not meet with approval either by boatmen or the city fathers.

A public hearing on the need for local harbor improvement was held in Gladstone June 13, 1946, at which time reasons for the requested improvement were presented representatives of the war department.

Something To Remember!

Ever so often a crew comes to town to take photographs, either for a contest, or some magazine or newspaper, or some other excuse.

They may sell coupons, or take a deposit when pictures are taken.

Also they may have a special offer of a painted picture.

A number of local people have told us, and others have shown us the results of such "visiting" photographers. And all were disappointed.

Then to cap it all—you either pay the full order in advance — or get them C.O.D. — all sight unseen and what you get is yours whether you like it or not, and there is no recourse.

Just ask some of your friends who had the experience.

We make and sell photographs, first class likenesses in the latest pose and modern lighting for as little as $9.00 a dozen. That's 95c each, and they are permanent. They won't fade, won't discolor—they will be as handsome 10 years from now as they are today.

Then too—you have the pictures taken when YOU are ready, and not under pressure and hurry when you are not in the mood.

When you want photographs taken, let us take them when you are ready for the sitting. If anything is wrong it can be corrected and when you receive your order from us, you'll be another of the many satisfied customers of ours.

St. Joe Primed For Munising; Eskymos To Face Marinette Eleven

TROJANS SET FOR JUG TILT

Mustangs Come Here;
Escanaba High In Night Game

The St. Joseph's parochial school Trojans and Coach Bob Villeneuve's Munising Mustangs will renew a tradition-packed rivalry of long standing when they clash at the high school athletic field here Saturday afternoon in one of the most interesting games on the Trojan schedule.

Spurred on by a commendable showing against Norway and a rousing 40-14 triumph over Crystal Falls for their first victory of the season, the Trojans are determined to keep up the fight and down Munising and then close the season with a win over Stephenson, Saturday, Nov. 1.

Three triumphs in a row would take much of the sting out of early season losses and give St. Joe a record of three wins and four losses. But to accomplish this, the Trojans must defeat a capable Mustang eleven which held Gladstone to a 13-13 deadlock. The Braves, you recall, beat St. Joe 30-7 in the season opener.

Munising has had an up-and-down season, however, having won two, lost four and tied one, and the Trojans regard this traditional "jug" clash as a chance to upset the dope bucket.

Meanwhile, the Escanaba high school Eskymos are preparing for one of their toughest assignments of the season—Marinette at Marinette Saturday night. The Eskymos are not accustomed to playing at night, and they have shown no liking for all-around power competition of the caliber of Marinette, Menominee and Iron Mountain.

They have been drilling hard this week, however, in hopes of surprising everyone Saturday night with a victory over Marinette. The consensus of the man-on-the-street is that the Eskymos have one more good game in their systems this season, and whether they go all-out against Marinette or save their strength for Gladstone is a moot question.

Delta Hardwares Quintet Admitted To NWM Cage Loop

The Escanaba Delta Hardwares, champion of the Northern Lakes Basketball league last season as the Bark River Tom Swifts, has been admitted as the tenth team in the Northern Wisconsin Michigan Basketball league, it was announced here this morning.

Eschmeyer's legions, NWM champion last season, have relinquished their franchise in favor of the Negaunee Beau Chateaus, leading Marquette county team last season. Difficulty in obtaining a sponsor and a gymnasium were given as reasons for Eschmeyer's withdrawal.

Previously admitted to the league this fall were the Stambaugh Big Jo Bakers and the Hermansville Silver Foxes, two of the peninsula's top aggregations. The four new powers contribute much in the way of adding appeal to independent basketball.

The complete NWM league roster now is as follows: Negaunee Beau Chateaus, Escanaba Delta Hardwares, Hermansville Silver Foxes, Stambaugh Big Jo Bakers, Niagara Badgers, Iron Mountain Rambler's Bar, Crystal Falls Rambler's, Iron River Scenic's, Vulcan and Norway.

Johnson said the schedule is being drafted and will be released during the next week. Play will start during the week of Nov. 2-8.

'Stique Reserves To Play Newberry

Manistique, Oct. 22—Manistique reserves will meet the Newberry "B" team here Saturday evening in a return game. Newberry won the first game, 14-0.

"You won't see as flashy playing as that when first string players produce, but you will see our future high school teams in the making and I think that you will be favorably impressed," said W. S. Cook, Manistique high school athletic director.

The gates will open at 7, and the game will begin at 7:45. Officials will be John Matthews, Sylvester Rubick and Thor Regue. The admission charge will be lower than that for regular games.

"It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

After our recent experience with Ramus II, the theatrical mental marvel who tried to muscle into our prognostication territory, we had intended to refrain from mentioning movies, but a little yarn we heard about Dick Schram, well-known football and basketball official hereabouts, puts us right back in the front row.

Two of the most interested spectators at a showing of "Ramrod" at the Delft theater this week were Mr. and Mrs. Dick Schram, who at least rate a nodding acquaintance with the principals. Joel McCrea, Preston Foster, Charlie Ruggles, Donald Crisp, to say nothing of Veronica Lake (Imagine saying nothing about Veronica Lake).

It all happened back in Zion canyon, Utah, in the summer of 1946 when the Schrams were returning from a trip to California. The "Ramrod" motion picture company was on location at Zion canyon, and the Schrams were passing through.

One thing led to another, and Schram's reputation as an athletic official became known. Although he doesn't specialize in baseball, but leans more toward the gridiron and cage court, he agreed to call a diamond ball game played by male principals in the east. McCrea, Foster and some of the others. Evidently, they were just killing time from the arduous duties of making a motion picture—such is life in the west!

"It was quite an eye-opener," Dick said when we quizzed him about the movie mogul act. "Those guys are fairly human after all. Some of them can even play ball. I saw Preston Foster hit a ball as far as I've ever seen anyone hit a ball."

Odd jottings from a reporter's cuff: It's a good thing Coach Eldon Kell's Gladstone Braves don't depend on point-after-touchdown conversions to win ball games. . . . Although the Braves have extended their undefeated streak to 20 games in three seasons and have piled up 149 points this season, they have made only five conversions in 24 touchdowns.

Grid fans keeping up with the U. P. roundup presented each Tuesday on this page can add one more point to the opponents' points totals of Norway and Stephenson. . . . Peshtigo defeated Stephenson, 19-8, and Marinette trimmed Norway, 33-0. . . . They were originally reported as 18-8 and 32-0.

Also, the pony express has arrived from the Copper Country. . . . Hancock defeated Wakefield, 13-6. . . . As a result each has won five and lost two this season, placing them right alongside Negaunee in the U. P. roundup chart.

Coach Henry Wylie, Eskymo cross country coach, is bemoaning the fact that Bill Tappen, Menominee ace who copied first place in Iron Mountain Saturday, will be around to harass his harriers again next season. . . . They found out at Iron Mountain that Tappen is a junior. . . . It was Tappen who beat Escanaba's Bob Ostrom to the tape on the track after Bob had stuck with him doggedly over the entire gruelling, hilly Iron Mountain route.

Oddly enough, winners in Class B and in Class C-D-E two separate races, had identical time of 16 minutes and 29 seconds last Saturday. . . . That's one for it wouldn't happen again in a million years department. . . . C. Johnson, Eben winner, turned in exactly the same time as Tappen. . . . Glenn Porterfield, Menominee, won in 9.40 here last season but the course was not nearly as tough as the up-and-down Iron Mountain two-mile course.

Football Star Can't Play--No Baby Sitter!!

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

New York, Oct. 22 (P)—For the benefit of football fans who still are excited over Frank Leahy's offer to send his Notre Dame team against Michigan any time, one guy who usually knows the score at South Bend gives this explanation: It was merely Frank's reaction to outside criticism of his players. He figures he can put them on the gridiron if he wants, but when someone else starts, Leahy becomes a strong defender of his own men. . . . also, our informant adds, he knew the players would read his remarks. . . .

Doc Rommes, former Chicago Blackhawk, has a dozen lettermen working out for his U. of Minnesota hockey team. . . . City College of New York, which expects to have one of the top basketball teams this season, will play only two of its 21 games on the home court—and only two out of town.

In two high school games played the same night only eight miles apart, Wisconsin Rapids and Nekoosa, Wis., high schools both made perfect passing records. Wisconsin Rapids completed six straight four for four touchdowns, and Nekoosa made four, two of which scored. . . .

Y. high senior Pete Higgins booted 50 straight conversions in practice. Came the big game with Lackawanna last Friday and Pete didn't get a chance as the game ended with an 0-0 score.

One-Minute Sports Page ) Larry MacPhail, who insists he isn't interested in race horses unless someone wants to give him a couple, also insists he doesn't intend to do any work before 1948 that isn't connected with his farm at Bel Air, Md. . . . Joe Patrick, who played hockey for Harvard and the N. Y. Rovers, is refereeing in the American Hockey League. Wonder if he can call penalties with a Harvard inflection? . . .

report from St. Mary's (Minn.) college says that star end Henry "Murf" Epstein can't play in the big game against Mankato Teachers because he can't find a baby sitter to take his place during the game.

End Of The Line In his interesting booklet about the annual Clemson-South Carolina grid game, "Big Thursday In South Carolina," sport scribe Harper Gault tells how the general admission party collapsed last year. Head ticket man Dick Anderson asked an internal revenue agent, "What do we do now?" the reply: "I don't know about you, Buddy, but I'm getting out of here before

DUDLEY PAGES LOOP SCORERS

Lion Ace To Be Seen In Action In Green Bay Sunday

Philadelphia, Oct. 22 (P)—Bill Dudley who a year ago won National Football League honors in four classifications while playing with the Pittsburgh Steelers, is making a great bid to repeat in the uniform of the Detroit Lions.

The latest league individual averages released today showed that Dudley led from Virginia in passing the circuit in scoring with 42 points, in touchdowns with seven, number of yards returned with 10, number of passes intercepted. Each has pulled in four enemy airmen.

In the Western Division alone the former University of Virginia ace has even more laurels. He is leading the Western section in kickoff returns and in punt returns, is second to the Chicago Cardinals' Charley Trippi in ground gaining and third in pass receiving.

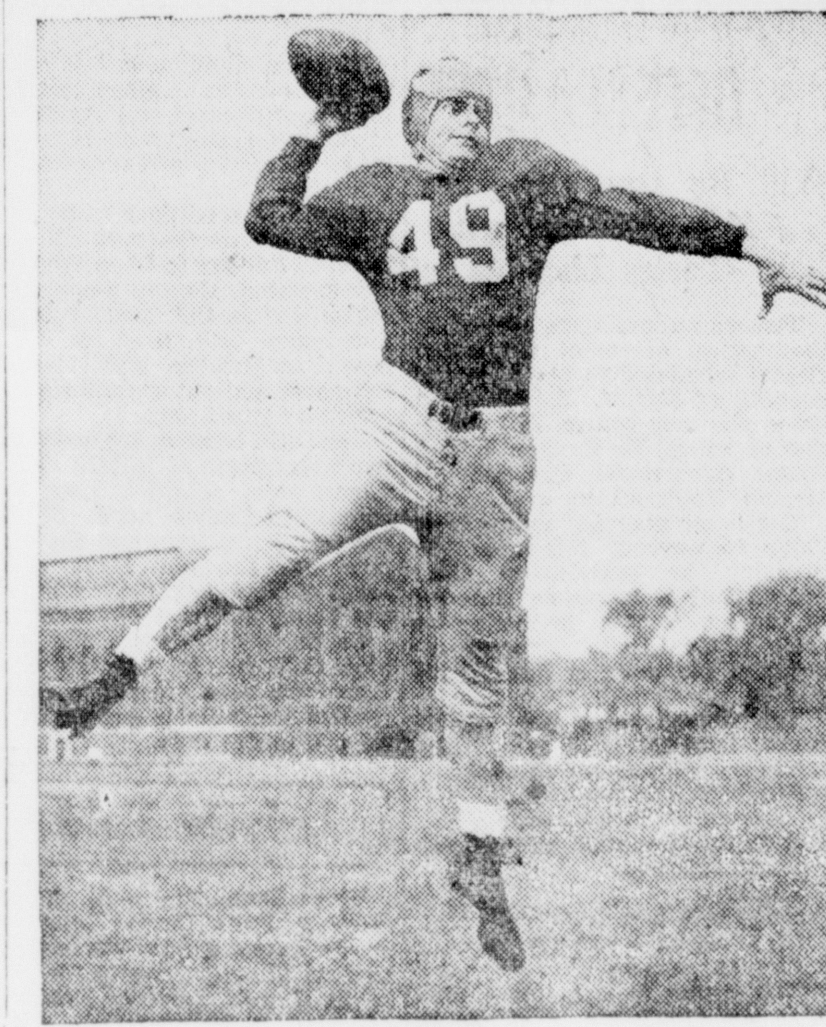

While Dudley was moving into contention for all-around individual honors, "Old Man" Sammy Baugh of Washington held to his position as the league's premier passer. He has tossed 120 airmen of which 66 have hit the mark for 1,037 yards and 10 touchdowns.

Although the Philadelphia Eagles have dropped their last two games, Steve Van Buren still is showing the way to the ground gainers. The one-time L. S. U. star has picked up 357 yards in 65 attempts for 5.5-yard average.

Howard Maley of Boston is showing the way in punting with an average of 43.8 yards for each of 31 kicks.

Aided by the 94-yard gallon he made against the Eagles, Eddie Saenz of the Redskins has picked up 459 yards in 13 punt returns to make a run-away race in that department. His closest rival is Dudley with 28.5 average with 171 yards in six run backs.

The top pass receivers are Jim Kneas of the Chicago Bears with 22 for 323 yards and four touchdowns and Val Jansante of Pittsburgh with 18 for 312 yards and one touchdown.

CHAPPUIS CHUCKING—This is the young fellow you've been reading about this season, the standout of Michigan's high powered team. Bob Chappuis, versatile halfback, led the Big Nine in ground-gaining last season and although being used sparingly this season, as Wolverine reserves pile up points against foes, he stands a good chance of repeating. The Wolverines are strongly favored to defeat Minnesota at Ann Arbor Saturday.

U-M Over Gophers By 35-13; MSC To Lose, 19-7, Forecast Says

Chicago, Oct. 22 (P)—Coming off the ropes for another round of football forecasting:

Michigan 35 Minnesota 13—The unbeaten Wolverines, with visions of the Rose Bowl, should find no trouble keeping the little brown jug in this traditional battle. . . . their defense, which leaked considerably against Northwestern, will get a good testing from fellows like Bill Elliott, Bill Bye and Everette Faunce. . . . Michigan's powerful blend of passing and rushing should provide the ponderous Gophers a frantic 60 minutes. . . .

Illinois 26 Purdue 14—It's Perry Moss vs. Bob DeMoss in this aerial attraction. . . . The Illini passing wizard, who completed seven out of seven for 113 yards and two touchdowns against Minnesota, will be up against a tougher defense this time. The Boiler-makers, inspired by a 62-7 wallowing of Boston U., could make this game a surprisingly close struggle, especially if they catch the Illini thinking ahead of their game with Michigan.

Indiana 20 Northwestern 14—The Wildcats still are handicapped by the injury bugaboo and will be up against a guy named George Taliaferro who is just about the classiest all around back in these parts.

Notre Dame 27 Iowa 13—The Hawkeyes, boasting one of the finest passers in the Big Nine, should give the Irish their best test thus far. . . . another pitching duel looms as Al Dimarco squares off against Johnny Lujack. . . .

Ohio State 26 Pitt 7—It is the Panthers' hpmecoming and Wes Fesler, who came from Pitt to Ohio State this season, says the game should be a lot closer than expected. Pitt, which has given up 164 points and scored only twice in losing to Illinois, Notre Dame, Michigan and Indiana, should continue its suicide schedule on the debit side.

Wisconsin 21 Marquette 6—Fresh from knocking Yale out of the undefeated ranks 9-0, the Badgers figure to beat their state rivals as usual, but not as easily

'Lineman Of Week' Is Jay Rhodemyre, Kentucky Wildcat

New York, Oct. 22 (P)—Things are looking up in football down University of Kentucky way. One of the reasons is the play of Jay Rhodemyre.

A center, Rhodemyre today was selected as the lineman of the week in the first Associated Press poll of the 1947 season. He gained the honor for the manner in which he tore Vanderbilt's line to shreds last Saturday, thus helping to topple Vanderbilt from the unbeaten ranks.

A former air forces pilot, who won his letter in 1942 and again in 1946, after he returned from the war, Rhodemyre is 24 years old and hails from Ashland, Ky. He weighs 196 pounds and stands 6 ft. 2 inches in height.

Several other centers also came in for high praise. Joe Cribari, of Denver's "Little Monsters" was declared the best lineman on the field in the Denver-Utah fray. Tom Novak, of Nebraska, was credited with 60 per cent of the tackles against Notre Dame.

DiMaggio Is Only Yank To Make All-Star Team; Bums Left Out In Cold

New York, Oct. 22 (P)—Only one member of the world championship New York Yankees and not one of the National League pennant winning Brooklyn Dodgers made the 1947 major league All-Star team of the Associated Press picked by 233 baseball writers throughout the nation.

The New York Giants, Cleveland Indians and Boston Braves, none of whom finished higher than third, each placed two men on the team which showed a National League complexion, with six representatives from the seniors circuit as compared to four from the American. The St. Louis Cardinals and the Detroit Tigers, runners-up in their respective leagues, failed to place a man.

Wolverines On Way Toward A National Offensive Record

New York, Oct. 22 (P)—Michigan's yard-consuming Wolverines must have their sights set on Army's all-time national total offense record of 462.7 yards per game compiled back in 1945.

Figures released by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau today showed the wallowing Wolverines are rolling along at a 484.5 yard per game clip in football gains from both rushing and passing, to lead the nation for the second straight week.

Statistics the week before showed Michigan averaging 479.3. The Crisler machine's chief gains have been through the air, where Michigan leads the country's collegians with an average of 220 yards per game. This average is down from 248 of the previous week as the Wolverines stuck closer to the ground in maccratering Northwestern last Saturday—but there's no other team within 37 yards of the aerial pacemakers. In rushing offense, Michigan ranks 11th with a 264.5 yard average.

Best rushing offense team of the week is Penn State, replacing Boston College, last week's leader which slipped to eighth. The nittany Lions have averaged 322 yards per game on the ground. If the yardsticks have anything to say about it, this Saturday's Penn State-West Virginia tilt should have the officials taking windbreaks all afternoon.

West Virginia ranks second, behind Michigan, in total offense after mauling four opponents by averaging 423.3 yards per game on the ground and in the air.

Notre Dame, fourth-ranking forward passing team, boasts the best pass completion average, 59 per cent, with Georgia Tech No. 7, averaging 59 percent bullseyes.

The South, traditionally a nunting stronghold, grabbed off the first four places among team leaders in punting averages, with North Carolina on top.

U. P. Softball Group Holds Final Session At Hubbell Sunday The Upper Peninsula Softball association will hold its final meeting of the year in Hubbell next Sunday afternoon, beginning at 1:30, Escanaba time.

Escanaba will be represented by Paul Vardigan and Cliff Beaudin.

REGULARS TO GO LIMIT East Lansing, Oct. 22 (P)—The Michigan State college starting lineup will get little relief against Kentucky in the fourth renewal of the intersectional football series here Saturday. Forewarned against the Wildcat power, Coach Biggie Munn is working on the assumption that his Spartan regulars will have to stay in most of the afternoon.

The Giants were represented by Johnny Mize at first base and Walker Cooper behind the plate. The Indians donated their fine keystone combination of shortstop Lou Boudreau and second baseman Joe Gordon. The Braves placed third baseman Bob Elliott and left-handed pitcher Warren Spahn.

Joe Dimaggio of the Yankees, Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox and Ralph Kiner of the Pittsburgh Pirates made up the outfield while Ewell Blackwell of the Cincinnati Reds won top honors among the right-handed pitchers.

No player was a unanimous choice. Williams, who led the American League in about every noteworthy batting department, drew the most support from the scribes, polling 209 out of a possible 233 votes. Dimaggio was close behind with 207 votes. Mize was third with 189 followed by Boudreau, 177; Blackwell, 158; Cooper, 141; Kiner, 137; Spahn, 115; Gordon, 113; and Elliott, 99.

The selections: Outfield—Ted Williams, Red Sox; Joe Dimaggio, Yankees; Ralph Kiner, Pirates. First base, Johnny Mize, Giants. Second base, Joe Gordon, Indians.

There were at least seven players named for each position with the closest race at third base where Elliott beat out George Kell of the Tigers by 29 votes.

Among the pitchers, right-hander Bob Feller of the Indians and Joe Page of the Yankees, finished behind Blackwell and Spahn. Hal Newhouser of the Tigers, who with Feller comprised the pitching staff of the '46 team, finished a poor fifth with only 21 votes. He was followed by Harry Breechen of the Cards, Frank Shea, freshman ace of the Yankees, and Johnny Sain of the Braves.

Sports Mirror By the Associated Press Today a year ago—Whispering Jack Meagher resigned as coach of the All-America Football Conference Miami Seahawks after team lost five in six games.

Three years ago—Bainbridge Naval Training eleven defeated Camp Peary 7-0 on Harry Hopp's 70-yard run.

Five years ago—President Roosevelt ordered Army-Navy game transferred from Philadelphia to Annapolis as wartime measure to curtail travel.

Ten years ago—University of Pittsburgh announced new athletic policy, placing aid for football players on same basis as other students, limiting schedule to nine games, abolishing training camp.

Against Northwestern alone, the 20-year-old Muskegon Heights, Mich., lad raced to a 116 yard gain and two touchdowns. "But all I had to do was run," he insists, "the blocking was beautiful, especially downfield."

KENTUCKY STAR RISING EARLY

Spartan Gridders See It Coming; They Meet Saturday

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 22 (P)—Kentucky's feat of knocking off "Top Ten" opponents on two straight Saturday's boosted the Wildcats today to a position among the national football powers that they were not scheduled to reach before 1949.

A 33-year-old coach who timed the ascension by a cockeyed calendar, a dozen or so break-away backs who operate by stopwatches instead of operators, and a great center who is always on time share much of the credit for the premature arrival.

Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant started rebuilding Kentucky grid stock from scratch a year ago and barely missed scoring some prime upsets in his first effort. Even after winning seven of ten games in 1946 he figured he was two years away from real prominence in the national football picture.

A strong hint that the Wildcat train was on the mainline was dropped two weeks ago when Georgia, then the nation's ninth ranking team, left Lexington on the caboose end of a 26-0 score.

The stamp of approval on that victory was applied last Saturday when Kentucky pushed Vanderbilt, the tenth ranking power in the nation, all over its home field and came up with a 14-0 victory.

Bryant now cautiously agrees that continued improvement from Saturday to Saturday may leave him with a pretty fair ball club, but he hastens to point out that the war drums of success can be silenced in one bad week-end.

Weisenburger Has 10.5 Rush Average Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 22 (P)—Modest, friendly and unassuming—that would be a reliable off-the-field description of Jackie Weisenburger, University of Michigan galloping fullback.

But that assessment would be hopelessly inadequate for Jack's competitive performance. Under fire, he's a fine combination of drive and determination, which the statistics bear out.

In action about half the time against Michigan's first four opponents, Weisenburger has smashed through and around the opposition for 295 yards on 28 tries, a 10.5 average.

Against Northwestern alone, the 20-year-old Muskegon Heights, Mich., lad raced to a 116 yard gain and two touchdowns.

"But all I had to do was run," he insists, "the blocking was beautiful, especially downfield."
